Korespondensi:

Catatan Reviewer tentang Artikel:

Notes for Editor:

1. This article focuses on elaborating the meaning of coffee by Barista. If the author is able to elaborate the communication between Baristas and visitors deeply, this article will be more interesting and can be considered for publication on Journal of Creative Communications (JoCC).
2. None of the relevant theories and concepts are quoted and used in the discussion section of this article, so that the author's analysis in the discussion section loses its theoretical basis and it is not argumentative.
3. Although basically the theme and focus of this research are interesting, but it is not very precise for JoCC. The theme and focus of this article is more appropriate when published in a journal that specifically on social psychology study.
