Dear Author's,

Please be advised that we have reviewed your article and we find it very interesting and in line with the issue for our journal. However, we think there are some revisions that need to be undertaken especially regarding richer ethnographic data and more powerful conclusion. For example, when you discussed about how women can take significant roles in persuading groom to-be, you need to provide ethnographic stories about that to support your argument. In your conclusion, you may want to mention about the contribution of this article for cultural studies, along with the personal law discussion. Thanks a lot

We will inform you later if we have further update, and we're waiting for your revision

Thank you.

GJAT Team.
